

The Complete Hydraulic Service

Company: Bell Hydraulics Ltd
Position: Hydraulic Technician
Location: Cwmbran, Torfaen, South Wales
Salary: £25k - £35k (depending on level of competence & experience)
Term: 6 month probation. Full time there after if candidate is suitable
Contact: Matthew Bell
E-mail: CV@bellhydraulics.co.uk

The Role:

The successful candidate will join a highly skilled and experienced team within the fluid power industry. The job role will involve in-house building and testing of Hydraulic Power Units and Test Rigs, on-site service work and installations.

Essential:

- Displays an aptitude for mechanical and hydraulic engineering.
- Significant experience working within the fluid power industry.
- Ability to work in a highly skilled workshop environment and eager to learn.
- Possess a highly skilled technical mechanical ability, with proficiency in use of all hand tools, machinery, and diagnostic and performance testing equipment associated with hydraulic servicing, manufacture and installation.
- Ability to read and interpret hydraulic circuits, engineering drawings and general assembly drawings.
- Ability to work on your own initiative.
- Good communication and interpersonal skills.
- Holds a full UK driving licence, preferably clean.
- Be eligible to work in the UK.

Desirable:

- Basic fabrication skills i.e. TIG / ARC welding.
- Pipe bending skills.
- Fault finding on hydraulic systems.
- A knowledge of hydraulic components (preferably Parker Hannifin, Hydac and Stauff).

The Complete Hydraulic Service

Qualifications:

In the absence of qualifications, relevant experience will be considered.

- BTEC, C&G, HNC or similar industry (BFPA or equivalent) qualifications in a relevant engineering discipline
- Knowledge of hydraulic, electrical and electro/ mechanical systems
- Good standard and understanding of oral and written English